

CodeRealm Corporation is a Presenting Company at the 2006 Enterprise Ventures Conference

Mountain View, CA, May 22, 2006-CodeRealm Corporation founder, chairman, and CEO, Bill Gramas, will present our company to the 2006 Enterprise Ventures conference on June 1 at 2:25 pm and 3:15 pm Pacific Time. VentureWire, a division of Dow Jones & Company, Inc., sponsors the Enterprise Ventures conference, which will be held at the Fairmont Hotel in San Jose, CA on May 31 and June 1, 2006. Our Vice President of Engineering, Wayne Nicholas, will also attend our presentations.

About VentureWire

VentureWire sponsors the Enterprise Ventures conference, and is a division of Dow Jones & Company, Inc. The Enterprise Ventures conference web site address is www.enterpriseventures.net.

About CodeRealm Corporation

CodeRealm Corporation offers solutions that allow machine-generated information to operate automatically and autonomously in a distributed enterprise. We make this valuable information available on-demand, as a service, over the Internet, to the data owning enterprise. Why are we needed? Soon the Internet will have trillions of users it does not have today. Most of them will not be human beings. Machine-generated information operating automatically and autonomously is called invisible business. Our on-demand solutions are flexible, can be customized, and can adapt to our customer's needs. Our web site offers sample industry applications and demonstrations. Visit our web site at www.cdrlm.com for more information about our company. You may contact us directly at info@cdrlm.com to adapt our solutions to your needs.